Pajama Party

MESSAGE BOARD

Felix B. Amparo
Adviser

For many of us, we take for granted simple things which appear ordinary such as watching a movie, having a nap and other activities.

As much as we can, we try to impart the same experiences that our students at Stepping Stone should have as well.

A simple movie viewing, having a pajama party and story telling brings a whole new experience to our kids at the school.

Wide eyed and listening intently, they will not forget such an experience. Our teachers do a very fine job of including these activities for their students.

Well done Teachers, Interns, and students.

How do you plan a perfect pajama party for kids? What is the perfect way to maximize their experience? Stepping Stone had it all answered.

Last February 2, 2018, we had our pajama party, the teachers prepared some games like “sack race” and “minute-to-win-it” games. Other activities such as “storytelling” and “movie watching” were also prepared for the event.

What made it more interesting was the tent where the kids would sleep and experience a real pajama party. And of course everyone wore their pajamas. The kids even brought their own stuff toys and pillows.

At the Functional Academics (FA) room, the teachers conducted their storytelling starting with “The three Little Pigs” watched over by the M.A Interns, Teacher Rutchie and Teacher Marie. To make the storytelling interesting, they prepared a “puppet show” which indeed entertained the audience. “The Three Little Pigs” is a familiar story to them but having it with paper and stick puppets was truly a great idea. The students looked and listened like their grandmother was telling them bed time stories.

The games which was held at the Teen Adults (TA) room was facilitated by the SPED Interns Nel and Lia. The students were able to experience playing “Filipino Folk” games which promotes not only the Filipino culture but also the spirit of sportsmanship. What made it more fun was the participation of our Interns and the Teachers !

The Early Intervention (EI) room was used for movie watching and the sleeping area. To complete the pajama party experience, the students slept while watching the short movies. Some children slept inside the tent while others lay down on the floor. Each student had their own stuffed toys and pillows and they were able to act as if they are sleeping. One student learned how to associate what to do with her pillow, her blanket and her pajamas. Some of the students also picked their partner to sleep with and it was a good experience to see how friendships are formed.

This activity taught the students what a pajama party is and how it feels like. It also made the students familiarize themselves with the things they can do when they sleep over at their friends houses.

The pajama party was success! Great job kids!

Cinema To Go!

By: Maria Rosalia Apostol & Angelica Varona

What is more fun than seeing a movie inside your own school? Yes! You read it right. Watching an animated movie inside your second home would be so much fun especially when you are with your colleagues and students.

Last January 26, 2018, the Teen-Adult Classroom was set up like a cinema, with a provision for a ticket booth and snack bar. Students from our Teen-Adult, Functional Academic and Early Intervention Classes gathered for the film showing of “FERDINAND”.

It was a movie about the journey of a bull with a big heart. He was mistaken as a dangerous beast, captured and torn away from his home. With the determination of going home to his family, he rallies a misfit team on the ultimate adventure.

The students got the chance to pick their seats like what we usually do when going to a cinema. Provided with free snacks and drinks was a blast. Special thanks to Oishi and FTK organizers who gave a bag full of snacks.

Teachers assisted their students to their designated chairs and the movie was on. The Cinema To Go was surrounded with different emotions specially the laughter of all the students and teachers during the entire show. Watching their reactions over the movie was remarkable. Approaching the happy ending, some students were unexpectedly a bit teary because of the movie. Some tried to stop the tears in their eyes, us teachers included, got a little bit emotional too. The ending was remarkable and heartwarming. It showed how important life is and the true meaning of Family, Friendship and Love.

This activity was really a good way to practice the students on what will they do whenever they go to the cinema. This activity also promotes socialization and it develops the learners’ emotional expression in different situations which they could apply in real life. This activity helped the students think more creatively and we are looking forward for the next educational film to watch with the students and teachers. We consider this a CINEMA TO GO and MOMENTS TO KEEP.
